Inhalte	The duration of the workshop will consist in a residency at the National Theatre of Nanterre. This temporary occupation will mean displacing meeting points, and testing different spatial configurations, including the local artistic scenes. We will meet people from all kinds of professional backgrounds, unrelated to drama, with whom students will take samples, conduct interviews. For that we will establish a protocol for meetings through careful preparation of the moment. These moments will constitute the raw material of the staging sketches carried out in the architecture of the theatre, on different scales. The cartography of the transcripts of the meetings will be our physical and social journey. Stéphane Bouquet, Robert Cantarella and Philippe Quesne will be the guides for these itineraries.
