Inhalte	We are diverse, creative beings with vast imagination and creative energy. What if we mix and melt our capacities? Let's put our minds together and think through our hands! In this course everyone emits ideas and contributes creations in surprising new ways. In week one, we dive into the experience of co-creative design and we learn how to engage others to create with us. We discover new methods and processes used by artists and designers to imagine, dream, analyze and execute pieces and solutions. We experiment, we make things - we are not afraid of failing - so we combine our creative processes. What if dancers design a product using music composing approaches or artists telling a story using acting and design? In week two, we create objects of Light. We apply the newly discovered methods and design with a team of guest co-creators. You learn how to facilitate a workshop and enable others. Together we design a collection of unique Light(s). But what's the point of keeping all this to ourselves? So, we document, do an exhibition and share it with a broad audience!
