| Inhalte | In this course, we will work hypothetically through the different phases of a dance production in a fast-forward motion: From the first conceptual idea through imaginary rehearsals to the assumed premiere. Hereby, we focus on re-occurring problems in the production of dance and we will confront these problems with different methods of problem-solving. Furthermore, we will engage in the logistics of a dance production as an act of administrative choreography in itself: What do we do if our ideas are bigger than our budget or how do I sell my art without selling myself? As a result of this course, we will understand that being a dancer doesn't stop when we exit the studio - it's a chosen way of life that we need to reflect, praise and take care of. |
